I. The Way We Work

A Word About This Handbook

This Employee Handbook contains information about the employment policies and practices of the practice. We expect each employee to read this Employee Handbook carefully, as it is a valuable reference for understanding your job and the practice. The policies outlined in this Employee Handbook should be regarded as management guidelines only, which in a developing business will require changes from time to time. The practice retains the right to make decisions involving employment as needed in order to conduct its work in a manner that is beneficial to the employees and the practice. This Employee Handbook supersedes and replaces any and all prior Employee Handbooks and any inconsistent verbal or written policy statements.

The practice complies with federal and state law and this handbook generally reflects those laws. The practice also complies with any applicable local laws, even though there may not be an express written policy contained in the handbook.

Except for the policy of at-will employment, the practice reserves the right to revise, delete and add to the provisions of this Employee Handbook at any time without further notice. All such revisions, deletions or additions to the Employee Handbook must be in writing and must be signed by the Chief of Operations Officer of the practice. No oral statements or representations can change the provisions of this Employee Handbook.

The provisions of this Employee Handbook are not intended to create contractual obligations with respect to any matters it covers. Nor is this Employee Handbook intended to create a contract guaranteeing that you will be employed for any specific time period. Any agreement to employment for a specified period of time will be put into writing and signed by the practice owners of the practice.

Nothing in this Employee Handbook is intended to unlawfully restrict an employee's right to engage in any of the rights guaranteed them by Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act, including but not limited to, the right to engage in concerted protected activity for the purposes of their mutual aid and/or protection. Nothing in this Employee Handbook will be interpreted, applied or enforced to interfere with, restrain or coerce employees in the exercise of Section 7 rights.

OUR PRACTICE IS AN AT-WILL EMPLOYER. THIS MEANS THAT REGARDLESS OF ANY PROVISION IN THIS EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK, EITHER YOU OR THE PRACTICE MAY TERMINATE THE EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP AT ANY TIME, FOR ANY REASON, WITH OR WITHOUT CAUSE OR NOTICE. NOTHING IN THIS EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK OR IN ANY DOCUMENT OR STATEMENT, WRITTEN OR ORAL, SHALL LIMIT THE RIGHT TO TERMINATE EMPLOYMENT AT-WILL. NO OFFICER, EMPLOYEE OR

REPRESENTATIVE OF THE PRACTICE IS AUTHORIZED TO ENTER INTO AN AGREEMENT—EXPRESS OR IMPLIED—WITH ANY EMPLOYEE FOR EMPLOYMENT FOR A SPECIFIED PERIOD OF TIME UNLESS SUCH AN AGREEMENT IS IN A WRITTEN CONTRACT SIGNED BY THE PRACTICE OWNERS OF THE PRACTICE.

This Employee Handbook refers to current benefit plans maintained by the practice. Refer to the actual plan documents and summary plan descriptions if you have specific questions regarding the benefit plan. Those documents are controlling.

Likewise, if a written contract is inconsistent with the Employee Handbook, the written contract is controlling.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Our practice is committed to equal employment opportunity. We will not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on any legally-recognized basis [“protected class”] including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform servicemember status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state, or local law.

In Florida, the following are also a protected class: race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicap, genetic test results, Florida National Guard membership, AIDS and/or related diseases (unless the absence of the AIDS virus is a bona fide occupational qualification), sickle cell trait [as refusal to hire or discharge] and marital status.

You may discuss equal employment opportunity related questions with your supervisor or any other designated member of management.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Our practice is committed to providing equal employment opportunities to qualified individuals with disabilities. This may include providing reasonable accommodation where appropriate in order for an otherwise qualified individual to perform the essential functions of the job. It is your responsibility to notify your supervisor of the need for accommodation. Upon doing so, your supervisor may ask you for your input or the type of accommodation you believe may be necessary or the functional limitations caused by your disability. Also, when appropriate, we may need your permission to obtain additional information from your physician or other medical or rehabilitation professionals. The practice will not seek genetic information in connection with requests for accommodation. All medical information received by the practice in connection with a request for accommodation will be treated as confidential.

A Word About our Employee Relations Philosophy

We are committed to providing the best possible climate for maximum development and goal achievement for all employees. Our practice is to treat each employee as an individual. We seek to develop a spirit of teamwork; individuals working together to attain a common goal.

In order to maintain an atmosphere where these goals can be accomplished, we provide a comfortable and progressive workplace. Most importantly, we have a workplace where communication is open and problems can be discussed and resolved in a mutually respectful atmosphere. We take into account individual circumstances and the individual employee.

We firmly believe that with direct communication, we can continue to resolve any difficulties that may arise and develop a mutually beneficial relationship.

No Harassment

We prohibit harassment of one employee by another employee, supervisor or third party for any reason based upon an individual's race; color; religion; genetic information; national origin; sex (including same sex); pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions; age; disability or handicap; citizenship status; service member status; or any other category protected under federal, state, or local law. Any disciplinary actions given after third complaint are ground for termination of employment. In Florida, the following are also a protected class: race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicap, genetic test results, Florida National Guard membership, AIDS and/or related diseases (unless the absence of the AIDS virus is a bona fide occupational qualification), sickle cell trait [as refusal to hire or discharge] and marital status.

Violation of this policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate discharge.

If you have any questions about what constitutes harassing behavior or what conduct is prohibited by this policy, please discuss the questions with your immediate supervisor or one of the contacts listed in this policy. At a minimum, the term "harassment" as used in this policy includes any of the following activities pertaining to an individual's race; color; religion; genetic information; national origin; sex (including same sex); pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions; age; disability or handicap; citizenship status; service member status; or any other category protected by federal, state, or local law:

Offensive remarks, comments, jokes, slurs, threats, or verbal conduct.
Offensive pictures, drawings, photographs, figurines, writings, or other graphic images, conduct, or communications, including text messages, instant messages, websites, voicemails, social media postings, e-mails, faxes, and copies.

Offensive sexual remarks, sexual advances, or requests for sexual favors regardless of the gender of the individuals involved; and Offensive physical conduct, including touching and gestures, regardless of the gender of the individuals involved.

We also absolutely prohibit retaliation, which includes: threatening an individual or taking any adverse action against an individual for (1) reporting a possible violation of this policy, or (2) participating in an investigation conducted under this policy.

Our supervisors and managers are covered by this policy and are prohibited from engaging in any form of harassing, discriminatory, or retaliatory conduct. No supervisor or other member of management has the authority to suggest to any applicant or employee that employment or advancement will be affected by the individual entering into (or refusing to enter into) a personal relationship with the supervisor or manager, or for tolerating (or refusing to tolerate) conduct or communication that might violate this policy. Such conduct is a direct violation of this policy.

Even non-employees are covered by this policy. We prohibit harassment, discrimination, or retaliation of our employees in connection with their work by non-employees. Immediately report any harassing or discriminating behavior by non-employees, including contractor or subcontractor employees. Any employee who experiences or observes harassment, discrimination, or retaliation should report it using the steps listed below.

If you have any concern that our No Harassment policy may have been violated by anyone, you must immediately report the matter. Due to the very serious nature of harassment, discrimination and retaliation, you must report your concerns to one of the individuals listed below:

1. Discuss any concern with your direct Human Resources at (863) 385-2222, 6325 US 27 N, Suite 201 Sebring, FL 33870.
2. If you are not satisfied after you speak with Human Resources, Discuss your concern with the Chief of Operations at (863) 385-2222, 6325 US 27 N, Suite 201 Sebring, FL 33870.
3. If you are not satisfied after you speak with the Chief of Operations discuss your concern with the Medical Director.

If an employee makes a report to any of these members of administration and the administration either does not respond or does not respond in a manner the employee deems satisfactory or consistent with this policy, the employee is required to report the situation to one of the other members of administration designated in this policy to receive complaints.

You should report any actions that you believe may violate our policy no matter how slight the actions may seem.

We will investigate the report and then take prompt, appropriate remedial action. The practice will protect the confidentiality of employees reporting suspected violations to the extent possible consistent with our investigation.

You will not be penalized or retaliated against for reporting improper conduct, harassment, discrimination, retaliation, or other actions that you believe may violate this policy.

We are serious about enforcing our policy against harassment. Persons who violate this or any other practice policy are subject to discipline, up to and including discharge. We cannot resolve a potential policy violation unless we know about it. You are responsible for reporting possible policy violations to us so that we can take appropriate actions to address your concerns.

Categories of Employment

INTRODUCTORY PERIOD: Full-time and part-time regular employees are on an introductory period during their first 60 days of employment.

During this time, you will be able to determine if your new position is suitable for you. You and your supervisor will have an opportunity to evaluate your work performance. However, the completion of the introductory period does not guarantee employment for any period of time since you are an at-will employee both during and after your introductory period.

FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES regularly work at least 30 hours or more each week.

PART-TIME REGULAR EMPLOYEES regularly work 29 hours or less each week.

SEASONAL EMPLOYEES perform a job for a specified time, normally less than one year.

PER DIEM EMPLOYEES do not work regularly scheduled hours but are called in to work on an as-needed basis.

In addition to the preceding categories, employees are also categorized as "exempt" or "non-exempt."

NON-EXEMPT EMPLOYEES are entitled to overtime pay as required by applicable federal and state law.

EXEMPT EMPLOYEES are not entitled to overtime pay and may also be exempt from minimum wage requirements pursuant to applicable federal and state laws.

Upon hire, your supervisor will notify you of your employment classification.

Anniversary Date

The first day you report to work will be recorded in practice records as your anniversary date. This date may be used to calculate many different practice benefits. If you have any questions regarding your anniversary date, please discuss with Human Resource.

Driver's License/Driving Record

Employees in positions where the operation of a motor vehicle is an essential duty of the position must present and maintain a valid driver's license and acceptable driving record to our insurer. Changes in your driving record must be reported to your supervisor immediately. Violations of this policy may result in immediate termination of your employment.

Certification, Licensing and Other Requirements

You will be informed by your supervisor if there are any licensing, certification or testing requirements for your job. Failure to qualify or to maintain a certification or license may be sufficient cause for discharge.

Immigration Reform and Control Act

In compliance with the federal Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 (IRCA), as amended, and any state law requirements, if applicable, our practice is committed to employing only individuals who are authorized to work in the United States.

Each new employee, as a condition of employment, must complete the Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 and present documentation establishing identity and employment eligibility.

If an employee is authorized to work in this country for a limited time period, the individual will be required to submit proof of renewed employment eligibility prior to expiration of that period to remain employed by the practice.

We believe that suggestions indicate initiative. With your approval, we will place the written suggestion in your personnel file and consider it at the time of your performance review.

Talk to Us

We encourage you to bring your questions, suggestions and complaints to our attention. We will carefully consider each of these in our continuing effort to improve operations. If you feel you have a problem, present the situation to your supervisor so that the problem can be settled by examination and discussion of the facts. We hope that your supervisor is able to satisfactorily resolve most matters.

If you still have questions after meeting with your supervisor or if you would like further clarification on the matter, request a meeting with the Chief of Operations Officer. (S)he will review the issues and meet with you to discuss possible solutions.

Finally, if you still believe that your problem has not been fairly or fully addressed, request a meeting with the Medical Director.

Your suggestions and comments on any subject are important, and we encourage you to take every opportunity to discuss them with us. Your job will not be adversely affected in any way because you choose to use this procedure.

If at any time you do not feel comfortable speaking with your supervisor or the next level of management, discuss your concern with any other member of management with whom you feel comfortable.

II. Your Pay and Progress

Recording Your Time

Non-exempt employees must record their hours on the online payroll application.

Accurately recording all of your time is required in order to be sure that you are paid for all hours worked. You are expected to follow the established procedures in keeping an accurate record of your hours worked. Time must be recorded as follows:

- Immediately before starting your shift.
- Immediately after finishing your shift.
- Immediately before and after any other time away from work.
- Immediately before and after any personal medical appointments with one of the practice physicians.

Employees are required to leave the company premises after their scheduled work shift has been completed. Violations of this policy may result in immediate termination of your employment.

Exempt employees may be required to accurately record their time worked in accordance with federal and state wage and hour law.

All employees subject to this policy are required to accurately record all time worked.

The workweek starts on Wednesday and ends on Tuesday.

Payday

You will be paid biweekly on Friday for the period that ends on the previous Tuesday.

When our payday is a holiday, you normally will be paid on the first working day after the holiday.

You may pick up your paycheck before 1:00 p.m. from the Department of Account Payable.

Please review your paycheck for errors. If you find a mistake, report it to the account payable department. The administrator will assist you in taking the steps necessary to correct the error.

Paycheck Deductions

The practice is required by law to make certain deductions from your paycheck each pay period. Such deductions typically include federal and state taxes and Social Security (FICA) taxes. Depending on the state in which you are employed and the benefits you choose, there may be additional deductions. All deductions and the amount of the deductions are listed on your pay stub. These deductions are totaled each year for you on your Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement.

It is the policy of the practice that exempt employees' pay will not be "docked," or subject to deductions, in violation of salary pay rules issued by the United States Department of Labor and any corresponding rules issued by the state government, as applicable. However, the practice may make deductions from employees' salaries in a way that is permitted under federal and state wage and hour rules. Employees will be reimbursed in full for any isolated, inadvertent, or improper deductions, as defined by law.

Thus, exempt employees may be subject to the following salary deductions, except where prohibited by state law, but only for the following reasons:

- ✓ Absences of one or more full days for personal reasons, other than sickness or disability; or
- ✓ Absences of one or more full days due to sickness or disability, if there is a plan, policy, or practice providing replacement compensation for such absences; or
- ✓ Absences of one or more full days before eligibility under such a plan, policy, or practice or after replacement compensation for such absences has been exhausted; or
- ✓ Suspensions of one or more full days for violations of safety rules of major significance; or
- ✓ Suspensions of one or more full days for violations of written workplace conduct rules, such as rules against sexual harassment and workplace violence; or
- ✓ Payment of actual time worked in the first and last weeks of employment, resulting in a proportional rate of an employee's full salary; or
- ✓ Any unpaid leave taken under the Family and Medical Leave Act; or
- ✓ Negative paid-time-off balances, in whole-day increments only.

The practice will not make deductions which are prohibited by the Fair Labor Standards Act or state laws from its exempt employees' pay.

If questions or concerns about any pay deductions arise, employees may discuss and resolve them with the administrator. If an error is found, you will receive an immediate adjustment which will be paid no later than on the next regular payday.

Garnishment/Child Support

When an employee's wages are garnished by a court order, our practice is legally bound to withhold the amount indicated in the garnishment order from the employee's paycheck. Our practice will, however, honor applicable federal and state guidelines that protect a certain amount of an employee's income from being subject to garnishment.

Direct Deposit

You have the option of receiving your pay in a payroll check or having your pay deposited into your bank account through our direct deposit program. All changes must be submitted to the Department of Account Payable two (2) weeks prior to next payroll.

Payroll Advances, Loans, Check Cashing

The practice does not allow payroll advances of any type or personal loans to employees. In addition, the practice will not cash personal checks for employees due to the depletion of business cash on hand.

Performance Reviews

Your performance is important to our practice. Once each year, generally near your anniversary date, your supervisor will review your job progress within our practice and help you set new job performance plans.

Our performance review program provides the basis for better understanding between you and your supervisor, with respect to your job performance, potential and development within the practice.

Performance reviews do not guarantee cost of living adjustments or salary increases.

New employees will generally be reviewed at the end of their introductory sixty days (60) period or more frequently.

Job Descriptions

The practice maintains a job description for each position in the practice. The job description outlines the essential duties and responsibilities of the position. When the duties and/or responsibilities of a position change, the job description is revised to reflect those changes. If you have any questions or wish to obtain a copy of your position's job description, please see your supervisor.

Promotions and Transfers

We believe that career advancement is rewarding for both the employee and the practice. We will promote qualified employees to new or vacated positions whenever possible. In addition, your supervisor is available to discuss transfer opportunities with you.

Job openings may be announced verbally. If you are interested in applying for one of these positions, notify your supervisor and speak to the person indicated on the notice.

Overtime

There will be times when you will need to work overtime so that we may meet the needs of our patients. Although you will be given advance notice when feasible, this is not always possible. Non-exempt employees must have all overtime approved in advance by their supervisor. Non-exempt employees will be paid at a rate of time and one-half their regular hourly rate for hours worked in excess of 40 hours in a workweek, unless state law provides a greater benefit in which case, we will comply with the state law. Only actual hours worked count toward computing weekly overtime. If you have any questions concerning overtime pay, check with the Account Payable Department.

On Call

It may be necessary for individuals in certain positions to be available by telephone after hours during the week or on the weekend. Employees who are required to be on call will be compensated in accordance with applicable state and federal wage and hour laws. On- Call Time See Regulations 29 CFR 785.17. An employee who is required to remain on call on the employer's premises or so close to the premises that the employee cannot use the time effectively for his or her own purpose is considered working while on-call. Any employee who is required to carry a cell phone, or a beeper, or who is allowed to leave a message where he or she can be reached is not working (in most cases) while on-call". An employee who is not required to remain on the employer's premises but is merely required to leave word at his home or with company officials where he may be reached is not working while on call.

This Employee Handbook describes the current benefit plans maintained by the practice. Refer to the actual plan documents and summary plan descriptions if you have specific questions regarding the benefit plan. Those documents are controlling.

Section 125 Plans

Our practice offers a pretax contribution option for employees. This employee benefit is known as a Section 125 plan.

A Section 125 plan is a benefit plan that allows you to make contributions toward premiums for medical insurance, dental insurance, vision care insurance and out-of-pocket medical expenses or dependent care expenses on a "before tax", rather than an "after tax" basis. Your premium contributions and qualified expenses are deducted from your gross pay before income taxes and Social Security is calculated.

To participate in this plan, complete an election form and return it to the administrator.

You cannot make any changes to your pretax contributions until the next open enrollment period unless your family status changes or you become eligible for a special enrollment period due to a loss of coverage. Family status changes include marriage, divorce, death of a spouse or child, birth or adoption of a child or discharge of employment of your spouse. A change in election due to a change in family status is effective the following month.

Disability Leave

Full-time employees are eligible for an unpaid disability leave after one year of employment. Disability leave due to non-occupational illness, injury or pregnancy-related disability is not to exceed six weeks.

Granting this leave prior to the completion of the eligibility period and/or beyond the maximum period stated above may be required as a reasonable accommodation in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act or due to state law or other requirements.

Employees requesting leave must provide written notice of the disability, including a doctor's certificate stating the nature of the disability and the expected date of return to work. The practice will not seek genetic information in connection with requests for disability leave. All medical information received by the practice in connection with a request for leave under this policy will be treated as confidential.

To the extent allowed by the insurance contract and applicable laws, we will continue to provide medical insurance, dental insurance and vision care insurance coverage for employees on authorized disability leave for the full length of the disability. During this time, you will be responsible for paying your portion of the monthly premium(s).

When you are able to return to work, give us at least one week's advance written notice. Include a doctor's certificate stating that you are medically able to return to your normal duties. We reserve the right to require a physical examination by a physician of our own choosing prior to your resumption of duties, as allowed by state law.

We will return you to the same or similar position you held prior to the disability leave, subject to our staffing and business requirements. Your continued absence from work beyond your disability (as determined by your physician) will be deemed a voluntary discharge of your employment.

This leave may run concurrently with any other leave where permitted by state and federal law.

Federal Family and Medical Leave Act

The Family and Medical Leave Act ("FMLA") provides eligible employees the opportunity to take unpaid job protected leave for certain specific reasons. The maximum amount of leave an employee may use is either 12 or 26 weeks within a 12-month period depending on the reasons for the leave.

Employee Eligibility

To be eligible for FMLA leave, you must:

1. have worked at least 12 months for the practice in the preceding seven years (limited exception apply to the seven-year requirement);
2. have worked at least 1,250 hours for the practice over the preceding 12 months; and
3. currently work at a location where there are at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

All periods of absence from work due to or necessitated by service in the uniformed services are counted in determining FMLA eligibility.

Conditions Triggering Leave

FMLA leave may be taken for the following reasons:

1. birth of a child, or to care for a newly-born child (up to 12 weeks);

2. placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care (up to 12 weeks);
3. to care for an immediate family member (employee's spouse, child, or parent) with a serious health condition (up to 12 weeks);
4. because of the employee's serious health condition that make the employee unable perform the employee's job (up to 12 weeks);
5. to care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness related to certain types of military service (up to 26 weeks) (see Military Related FMLA Leave for more details); or
6. to handle certain qualifying exigencies arising out of the fact that the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent is on covered active duty or call to covered active duty status in the Uniformed Services (up to 12 weeks) (see Military-Related FMLA Leave for more details).

The maximum amount of leave that may be taken in a 12-month period for all reasons combined is 12 weeks, with one exception. For leave to care for a covered servicemember, the maximum combined leave entitlement is 26 weeks, with leaves for all other reasons constituting no more than 12 of those 26 weeks.

Definitions

A "Serious Health Conditions" is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee's job, or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities. Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement includes an incapacity of more than three full calendar days and two visits to a health care provider or one visit to a health care provider and a continuing regimen of care; an incapacity caused by pregnancy or prenatal visits, a chronic condition, or permanent or long-term conditions; or absences due to multiple treatments. Other situations may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

Identifying the 12 Month Period

The 12-month period in which 12 weeks of leave may be taken is the calendar year. For leave to care for a covered servicemember, the practice calculates the 12-month period beginning on the first day the eligible employee takes FMLA leave to care for a covered servicemember and ends 12 months after that date. FMLA leave for the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care must be concluded within 12 months of the birth or placement.

Using Leave

Eligible employees may take FMLA leave in a single block of time, intermittently (in separate blocks of time), or by reducing the normal work schedule when medically necessary for the serious health condition of the employee or immediate family member, or in the case of a covered servicemember, his or her injury or illness. Eligible employees may also take intermittent or reduce-scheduled leave for military qualifying exigencies. Intermittent leave is not permitted for birth of a child, to care for a newly-born child, or for placement of a child for adoption or foster care. Employees who require intermittent or reduce-schedule leave must try to schedule their leave so that it will not unduly disrupt the practice's operations.

Use of Accrued Paid Leave

Depending on the purpose of your leave request, you may choose (or the practice may require you) to use accrued paid leave (such as sick leave, vacation, or PTO), currently with some or all of your FMLA leave. In order to substitute paid leave for FMLA leave, an eligible employee must comply with the practice's normal procedures for the applicable paid-leave policy (e.g., call-in procedures, advance notice, etc.).

Maintenance of Health Benefits

If you and/or your family participate in our group health plan, the practice will maintain coverage during your FMLA leave on the same terms as if you had continued to work. If applicable, you must make arrangements to pay your share of health plan premiums while on leave. In some instances, the practice may recover premiums it paid to maintain health coverage or other benefits for you and for your family. Use FMLA leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of your leave.

Notice and Medical Certification

When seeking FMLA leave, you are required to provide:

1. Sufficient information for us to determine if the requested leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that you are unable to perform job functions, a family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a health care provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. You must also inform the practice if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.

If the need for leave is foreseeable, this information must be provided 30 days in advance of the anticipated beginning date of the leave. If the need for leave is not foreseeable, this information must be provided as soon as is practicable and in compliance with the practice normal call-in procedures, absent unusual circumstances.

2. Medical certification supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting you or an immediate family member within 15 calendar days of the practice request to provide the certification (additional time may be permitted in some circumstances). If you fail to do so, we may delay the commencement of your leave, withdraw any designation of FMLA leave or deny the leave, in which case your leave of absence would be treated in accordance with our standard leave of absence and attendance policies, subjecting you to discipline up to and including termination. Second or third medical opinions and periodic re-certifications may also be required;

3. Periodic reports as deemed appropriate during the leave regarding your status and intent to return to work; and
4. Medical certification of fitness for duty before returning to work, if the leave was due to your serious health condition. The practice will require this certification to address whether you can perform the essential functions of your position.

Failure to comply with the foregoing requirements may result in delay or denial of leave, or disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Employer Responsibilities

To the extent required by law, the practice will inform employees whether they are eligible under the FMLA. Should an employee be eligible for FMLA leave, the practice will provide him or her with a notice that specifies any additional information required as well as the employee's rights and responsibility. If employees are not eligible, the practice will provide a reason for the ineligibility. The practice will also inform employees if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and, to the extent possible, note the amount of leave counted against the employee's leave entitlement. If the practice determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, the practice will notify the employee.

Job Restoration

Upon returning from FMLA leave, eligible employees will typically be restored to their original job or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

Failure to Return After FMLA Leave

Any employee who fails to return to work as scheduled after FMLA leave or exceeds the 12-week FMLA entitlement (or in the case of military caregiver leave, the 26-week FMLA entitlement), will be subject to the practice's standard leave of absence and attendance policies. This may result in termination if you have no other practice-provided leave available to you that applies to your continued absence, likewise, following the conclusion of your FMLA leave, the practice's obligation to maintain your group health plan benefits ends (subject to any applicable COBRA rights).

Other Employment

The practice generally prohibits employees from holding other employment. This policy remains in force during all leaves of absence including FMLA leave and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination of employment.

Fraud

Providing false or misleading information or omitting material information in connection with an FMLA leave will result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Employer's Compliance with FMLA and Employee's Enforcement Rights.

The FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA, or discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA. While the practice encourages employees to bring any concerns or complaints about compliance with FMLA to the attention of the Chief of Operations Officer, FMLA regulations require employers to advise employees that they may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor or bring a private lawsuit against an employer

Further, FMLA does not affect any Federal or state law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

Military-Related Federal FMLA Leave

FMLA leave may also be available to eligible employees in connection with certain service-related medical and non-medical needs of family members. There are two forms of such leave. The first is Military Caregiver leave, and the second is Qualifying Exigency Leave. Each of these leaves is detailed below.

Definitions

A "covered servicemember" is either: (1) a current servicemember of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, with a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty for which the servicemember is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list; or (2) a "covered veteran" who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness.

A "covered veteran" is a individual who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable during the five year period prior to the first date the eligible employee takes FMLA leave to care for the covered veteran. The period between October 28, 2009 and March 8, 2013 is excluded in determining this five-year period.

The FMLA definitions of "serious injury or illness" for current servicemembers and veterans are distinct from the FMLA definition "serious health condition". For current servicemembers, the term "serious injury or illness" means an injury or illness that was incurred by the member in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces or that existed before the beginning of active duty and was aggravated by such service, that may render them medically unfit to perform the duties of their office, grade, rank or rating.

For covered veterans, this term means a serious injury or illness that was incurred in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces or that existed before the beginning of active duty and was aggravated by such service and manifested itself before or after the individual assumed veteran status, and is: (1) a continuation of a serious injury or illness that was incurred or aggravated when they were a member of the Armed Forces and rendered them unable to perform the duties of their office, grade, rank or rating; (2) a physical or mental condition for which the covered veteran has received a VA Service Related Disability Rating (VASRD) of 50 percent or greater and such VASRD rating is based, in whole or in part, on the condition precipitating the need for caregiver leave; (3) a physical or mental condition that substantially impairs the veteran's ability to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation by reason of a disability or disabilities related to military service or would be so absent treatment; or (4) an injury, including a psychological injury, on the basis of which the covered veteran has been enrolled in the Department of Veterans Affairs Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers.

"Qualifying exigencies" include activities such as short-notice deployment, military events, arranging alternative childcare, making financial and legal arrangements related to the deployment, rest and recuperation, counseling, parental care, and post-deployment debriefings.

Military Caregiver Leave

Unpaid Military Caregiver Leave is designed to allow eligible employees to care for certain family members who have sustained serious injuries or illnesses in the line of duty while on active duty. Military Caregiver Leave is a special leave entitlement that permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered servicemember during a single 12-month period.

To be "eligible" for military Caregiver Leave, the employee must be a spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin of the covered servicemember. "Next of Kin" means the nearest blood relative of the servicemember, other than the servicemember's spouse, parent, son or daughter, in the following order of priority blood relatives who have been granted legal custody of the servicemember by court decree or statutory provisions; brothers and sisters; grandparents; aunts and uncles; and first cousins; unless the servicemember has specifically designated in writing another blood relative as his or her nearest blood relative for purposes of Military Caregiver Leave. The employee must also meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA Leave Policy.

An eligible employee may take up to 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave to care for a covered servicemember in a "single 12-month period". The single 12-month period begins on the first day leave is taken to care for a covered servicemember and ends 12 months thereafter, regardless of the method used to determine leave availability for other FMLA-qualifying reasons. If an employee does not exhaust his or her 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave during this "single 12-month period", the remainder is forfeited.

Military Caregiver Leave applies on a per-injury basis for each servicemember. Consequently, an eligible employee may take separate periods of caregiver leave for each and every covered servicemember, and/or for each and every serious injury or illness of the same covered servicemember. A total of no more than 26 workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave, however may be taken within any "single 12-month period".

Within the “single 12-month period” describe above, and eligible employee may take a combined total of 26 weeks of FMLA leave including up to 12 weeks of leave for any other FMLA-qualifying reason (i.e., birth or adoption child, serious health condition of the employee or close family member, or a qualifying exigency). For example, during the “single 12-month period”, an eligible employee may take up to 16 weeks of FMLA leave to care for a covered servicemember when combined with up to 10 weeks of FMLA leave to care for a newborn child.

An employee seeking Military Caregiver Leave may be required to provide appropriate certification from the employee and/or covered servicemember and completed by an authorized health care provider within 15 days. Military Caregiver Leave is subject to the other provisions in our FMLA leave Policy (requirements regarding employee eligibility, appropriate notice of the need for leave, use of accrued paid leave, etc.) Military Caregiver Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

Qualifying Exigency Leave

Eligible employees may take unpaid “Qualifying Exigency Leave” to tend to certain “exigencies” arising out of the duty under a call or order to active duty of a military member” (i.e. the employee’s spouse, son, daughter, or parent). Up to 12 weeks of Qualifying Exigency Leave is available in any 12-month period, as measured by the same method that governs measurement of the other forms of FMLA leave within the FMLA policy (with the exception of Military Caregiver Leave, which is subject to a maximum of 26 weeks of leave in a “single 12-month period”). Although Qualifying Exigency Leave may be combined with leave for other FMLA-qualifying reasons, under no circumstances may the combined total exceed 12 weeks in any 12-month period (with the exception of Military Caregiver Leave as set forth above). The employee must meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA policy.

Persons who can be ordered to active duty include active and retired members of the regular Armed Forces, certain members of the retired Reserve, and various other Reserve members including the Ready Reserve, the Selected Reserve, the Individual Ready Reserve, The National Guard, state military, Army Reserve, Navy Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, Air National Guard, Air Force Reserve, and Coast Guard Reserve.

A call to active duty refers to a federal call active duty, and state calls to active duty are not covered unless under order of the President of the United States pursuant to certain laws.

Qualifying Exigency Leave is available under the following circumstances:

1. Short-notice deployment. To address any issue that arises out of short notice (within seven days or less) of an impending call or order to active duty.
2. Military events and related activities. To attend any official military ceremony, program, or event related to active duty or call to covered active duty status or to attend certain family support or assistance programs and informational briefings.

3. Childcare and school activities. To arrange for alternative childcare; to provide childcare on an urgent, immediate need basis; to enroll in or transfer to a new school or daycare facility; or to attend meetings with staff at a school or daycare facility.
4. Financial and legal arrangements. To make or update various financial or legal arrangements; or to act as a covered military member's representative before a federal, state, or local agency in connection with service benefits.
5. Counseling To attend counseling (by someone other than a health care provider) for the employee, for the military member, or for a child or dependent when necessary as a result of duty under a call or order to covered active duty.
6. Temporary rest and recuperation. To spend time with a military member who is on short-term, temporary rest and recuperation leave during the period of deployment. Eligible employees may take up to 15 days of leave for each instance of rest and recuperation.
7. Post-deployment activities. To attend arrival ceremonies, reintegration briefings and events, and any other official ceremony or program sponsored by the military for a period of up to 90 days following termination of the military member's active duty status. This also encompasses leave to address issues that arise from the death of a military member while on active duty status.
8. Parental care. To care for the military member's parent who is incapable of self-care. The parent must be military member's biological, adoptive, step, or foster father or mother, or any other individual who stood in loco parentis to the military member when the member was under 18 years of age.
9. Mutually agreed leave. Other events that arise from the military member's duty under a call or order to active duty, provided that the practice and the employee agree that such leave shall qualify as an exigency and agree to both the timing and duration of such leave.

An employee seeking Qualifying Exigency Leave may be required to submit appropriate supporting documentation in the form of a copy of the military member's active duty orders or rest and recuperation orders or other military documentation indicating the appropriate military status and the dates of active duty status, along with a statement setting forth the nature and details of the specific exigency, the amount of leave needed and the employee's relationship to the military member, within 15 days. Qualifying Exigency Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

Limited Nature of This Policy

This policy should not be construed to confer any express or implied contractual relationship or rights to any employee not expressly provided for by FMLA. The practice reserves the right to modify this or any other policy as necessary, in its sole discretion to the extent permitted by law. State or local leave laws may also apply.

Leave of Absence

Under special circumstances, full-time employees who have completed one year of employment may be granted a leave of absence without pay. The granting of this type of leave is normally for compelling reasons and is dependent upon the written approval of the Chief of Operations Officer.

Leave of absence for personal reasons is reviewed on an individual basis. Decisions are based upon merit of the respective case. Personal leave of over 40 hours must have a specified date of return for employment. Additional time over (1) consecutive week must be approved for a specific reason and if it exceeds 30 days then returning to the same position and salary is not guaranteed.

During your employment, you and the practice both contribute funds to the federal government to support the Social Security program. This program is intended to provide you with retirement benefit payments and medical coverage once you reach retirement age.

Our practice has policies and procedures regarding HIPAA compliance and you are expected to follow them. Failure to follow our policies and procedures may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge.

Deviations in Patient Records

Occasionally you may find what appears to be an obvious clerical or mathematical error on part of the patient. Chart mistakes of this nature should tactfully be brought to the attention of the appropriate person. When discussing such an error, be certain of the mistake, be careful with whom it is discussed and most importantly, be diplomatic in handling the misunderstanding.

During your career, you may discover or suspect evidence of theft, embezzlement, defalcation or some other irregular practice on the part of the patient or patient personnel. If such an event occurs, inform the Chief of Operations Officer immediately. Under no circumstances should you discuss the matter with the patient or patient personnel.

Attendance and Punctuality

Attendance and punctuality are important factors for your success within our practice. We work as a team and this requires that each person be in the right place at the right time.

If you are going to be late for work or absent, notify your supervisor as far in advance as is feasible under the circumstances, but before the start of your workday.

Personal issues requiring time away from your work, such as doctor's appointments or other matters, should be scheduled during your nonworking hours if possible.

If you are absent for three days without notifying the practice, it is assumed that you have voluntarily abandoned your position with the practice, and you will be removed from the payroll.

Mandatory Meetings

Notice of Mandatory Meetings will be given one or more weeks prior to the meeting. Employees, who are late or miss the meeting without approval from their supervisor, will receive disciplinary action that will be considered during their next review.

Disciplinary action may include a verbal warning, written warning, suspension with or without pay, and/or discharge. The appropriate disciplinary action imposed will be determined by the practice. The practice does not guarantee that one form of action will necessarily precede another.

Nothing in this policy is designed to modify our employment-at-will policy.

Patient and Public Relations

Our practice's reputation is built on excellent service and quality work. To maintain this reputation requires the active participation of every employee.

The opinions and attitudes that patients have toward our practice may be determined for a long period of time by the actions of one employee. It is sometimes easy to take a patient for granted, but if we do we run the risk of losing not only that patient, but his or her associates, friends or family who may also be patients or prospective patients.

Each employee must be sensitive to the importance of providing courteous treatment in all working relationships.

If you disagree with the accuracy of any statement in the records and no correction can be agreed upon, you may submit an explanatory statement, which will be attached to the records. For more information, contact the Chief of Operations Officer.

Non-Solicitation

The practice believes employees should have a work environment free from interruptions of a non-work-related nature, as work time is for work. When you are to be working you should focus on your duties and not engage in activities that would interfere with your own work or the work of others. For the purpose of this policy, solicitation includes, but is not limited to, for collection of any debt or obligation, for raffles of any kind or chance taking, or for the sale of merchandise or business services, the attempt to sell any product or service (e.g. selling or collecting for Tupperware®, Avon® products, churches, schools, Girl Scout cookies, etc.). Such interruptions can be both detrimental to the quality of work and efficiency and may not be respectful of others job responsibilities and right not to be interrupted.

Employees may not engage in solicitation for any purpose during his/her work time, which includes the working time of the employee who seeks to solicit and the employee who is being solicited. Although solicitation is not encouraged, it is permitted as long as it is limited to the employee's lunch time and kept out of active working areas. Nothing in this policy is intended to restrict an employee's statutory rights.

Acceptable Use of Electronic Communications

This policy contains guidelines for Electronic Communications created, sent, received, used, transmitted, or stored using practice communication systems or equipment and employee provided systems or equipment used either in the workplace, during working time or to accomplish work tasks. "Electronic Communications" include, among other things, messages, images, data or any other information used in e-mail, instant messages, voice mail, fax machines, computers, personal digital assistants (including Blackberry, iPhone, iPad, tablet, smart phone or similar devices), text messages, pagers, telephones, cellular and mobile phones including those with cameras, Intranet, Internet, back-up storage, information on a memory or flash key or card, jump or zip drive or any other type of internal or external removable storage drives. In the remainder of this policy, all of these communication devices are collectively referred to as "Systems."

Employees may use our Systems to communicate internally with co-workers or externally with patients, suppliers, vendors, advisors, and other business acquaintances for business purposes.

All Electronic Communications contained in practice Systems are practice records and/or property. Although an employee may have an individual password to access our Systems, the Systems and Electronic Communications belong to the practice. The Systems and Electronic Communications are accessible to the practice at all times including periodic unannounced inspections. Our Systems and Electronic Communications are subject to use, access, monitoring, review, recording and disclosure without further notice. Our Systems and Electronic Communications are not confidential or private. The practice's right to use, access, monitor, record and disclose Electronic Communications without further notice applies equally to employee-provided systems or equipment used in the workplace, during working time, or to accomplish work tasks.

Although incidental and occasional personal use of our Systems that does not interfere or conflict with productivity or the practice's business or violate policy is permitted, personal communications in our Systems are treated the same as all other Electronic Communications and will be used, accessed, recorded, monitored, and disclosed by the practice at any time without further notice. Since all Electronic Communications and Systems can be accessed without advance notice, employees should not use our Systems for communication or information that employees would not want revealed to third parties.

Employees may not use our Systems in a manner that violates our policies including but not limited to Equal Employment Opportunity, No Harassment, Confidentiality of Patient Matters, Care of Patient Records, Protecting Patient and Practice Information, Non-Solicitation, Distribution, Electronic and Voice Mail Monitoring, and Internet Usage. Employees may not use our Systems in any way that may be seen as insulting, disruptive, obscene, offensive, or harmful to morale. Examples of prohibited uses include, but are not limited to, sexually-explicit drawings, messages, images, cartoons, or jokes; propositions or love letters; ethnic or racial slurs, threats of violence or bullying, or derogatory comments; or any other message or image that may be in violation of practice policies or federal, state or local law.

In addition, employees may not use our Systems:

- To download, save, send or access any discriminatory or obscene material;
- To download anything from the internet (including shareware or free software) without the advance written permission of the administrator;
- To download, save, send or access any site or content that the practice might deem "adult entertainment;"
- To access any "blog" or otherwise post a personal opinion on the Internet (see Social Media policy);

- In connection with the violation or attempted violation of any law.

An employee may not misrepresent, disguise, or conceal his or her identity or another's identity in any way while using Electronic Communications; make changes to Electronic Communications without clearly indicating such changes; or use another person's account, mail box, password, etc. without prior written approval of the account owner and without identifying the actual author.

Employees must always respect intellectual property rights such as copyrights and trademarks. Employees must not copy, use, or transfer trade secrets or proprietary materials of the practice or others without appropriate authorization.

All Systems passwords and encryption keys must be available and known to the practice. Employees may not install password or encryption programs without the written permission of the administrator. Employees may not use the passwords and encryption keys belonging to others.

Numerous state and federal laws apply to Electronic Communications. The practice will comply with applicable laws. Employees also must comply with applicable laws and should recognize that an employee could be personally liable and/or subject to fine and imprisonment for violation of applicable laws.

This policy does not limit an employee's rights under Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act. Nothing in this policy is meant to restrict an employee's right to discuss the terms and conditions of his/her employment during non-working hours using non-practice systems.

Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge as well as possible civil liabilities or criminal prosecution. Where appropriate, the practice may advise legal officials or appropriate third parties of policy violations and cooperate with official investigations. We will not, of course, retaliate against anyone who reports possible policy violations or assists with investigations.

Workstation Use

It is critical that the employees at Florida Joint and Spine Institute, P.A. are careful how they use their computer workstations. Private data on the computer system must not be disclosed to other persons who should not have access to that data. Therefore, all employees must adhere to the following policies when using their computer workstation.

Passwords: Your password is for your use only. You should not reveal your password to anyone else, neither within Florida Joint and Spine Institute, P.A. nor outside the organization. Your password may be used to track disclosure of information to third parties, and if another individual uses your password to disclose information to an unauthorized individual, you will be held responsible for that disclosure.

If you create your own password, the password must have at least one letter and at least one number (meaning the password must be alpha-numeric). When you decide on your password, notify the Privacy Officer what password you have selected, and he or she will let you know if the password is allowed. You may then begin to use the password to access the computer system.

In addition, you must not leave your password on or near your computer workstation (such as taped to the monitor): if you have difficulty remembering your password, sit down with the Privacy Officer and create a password that is easier for you to remember.

If you or the Privacy Officer believes your password has been revealed to another individual (either by accident or intentional), the privacy Officer may elect to change your password at any time.

Leaving the workstation: The computer workstation has been set to no video after 5 minutes of “idle time”. However, when you get up from your workstation for any reason (e.g. to use the restroom, to go to lunch, to check on an incoming fax, etc.). you must log off the system. If do you not log off the system, sensitive information may be disclosed to an unauthorized individual, and you will be held fully responsible for that disclosure.

Viewing the Computer Monitor: When you sit at your workstation, only you should be able to see and read the computer monitor. You should therefore adjust the angle of your monitor to prevent other individuals from viewing and reading the information on your monitor. If your workstation does not allow you to adjust the angle of your monitor, ask the Privacy Officer to purchase “blindners” or another device that will limit who may view the information on your monitor.

Saving Data on Your Workstation: Our patients’ health information is very sensitive and must be safeguarded very carefully. You should not transfer or otherwise save health data on your local computer hard drive. This not only includes information in the electronic medical record, but also includes letters and other correspondence with patients concerning their health status. If you want to save the information on your hard drive, obtain permission from the Privacy Officer first, who will verify your workstation has in place the necessary security and privacy safeguards in place.

Social Media

The practice has in place policies that govern use of its own electronic communication systems, equipment, and resources which employees must follow. We encourage you to use good judgment when communicating via social media.

“Social media” includes all means of communicating or posting information or content of any sort on the Internet, including to your own or someone else’s web log or blog, journal or diary, personal web site, social networking or affinity web site, web bulletin board or a chat room, whether or not associated or affiliated with the practice, as well as any other form of electronic communication.

The same principles and guidelines found in the practice’s Employee Handbook policies apply to your activities online. Ultimately, you are solely responsible for what you post online. Before creating online content, consider some of the risks and rewards that are involved. Keep in mind that any of your conduct that adversely affects your job performance, the performance of fellow employees or otherwise adversely affects patients, vendors, suppliers, people who work on behalf of the practice or its legitimate business interests may result in disciplinary action up to and including immediate discharge.

The following is a general and non-exhaustive list of guidelines you should keep in mind:

- 1 Always be fair and courteous to fellow employees, patients, vendors, suppliers or people who work on behalf of the practice. Also, keep in mind that you are more likely to resolve work related complaints by speaking directly with your co-workers or by utilizing our Talk to Us policy than by posting complaints to a social media outlet. Nevertheless, if you decide to post complaints or criticism, avoid using statements, photographs, video or audio that reasonably could be viewed as malicious, obscene, threatening or intimidating, that disparages patients, employees, vendors, or suppliers, or that might constitute harassment or bullying. Examples of such conduct might include offensive posts meant to intentionally harm someone’s reputation or posts that could contribute to a hostile work environment on the basis of race, age, gender, national origin, color, disability, religion or any other status protected by federal, state or local law or company policy. Inappropriate postings that may include discriminatory remarks, harassment, retaliation, and threats of violence or similar inappropriate or unlawful conduct will not be tolerated and may subject you to disciplinary action up to and including immediate discharge.

2. Make sure you are always truthful and accurate when posting information or news. If you make a mistake, correct it quickly. Be open about any previous posts you have altered. Use privacy settings when appropriate. Remember that the Internet archives almost everything; therefore, even deleted postings can be searched. The Internet is immediate; nothing that is posted ever truly “expires.” Never post any information or rumors that you know to be false about the practice, fellow employees, patients, vendors, suppliers, and people working on behalf of the practice or competitors.

4. Maintain the confidentiality of practice trade secrets and proprietary or confidential information. Trade secrets may include information regarding the development of systems, processes, products, know-how and technology. Do not post internal reports, policies, procedures or other internal business-related confidential communications.
5. Do not create a link from your blog, website or other social networking site to the practice's website without identifying yourself as a practice employee.
6. Express only your personal opinions. Never represent yourself as a spokesperson for the practice. If the practice is a subject of the content you are creating, be clear and open about the fact that you are an employee and make it clear that your views do not represent those of the practice, fellow employees, patients, vendors, suppliers or people working on behalf of the practice. If you do publish a blog or post online related to the work you do or subjects associated with the practice, make it clear that you are not speaking on behalf of the practice. It is best to include a disclaimer such as "The postings on this site are my own and do not necessarily reflect the views of Florida Joint & Spine Institute PA".
7. You must refrain from using social media while on working time or while using equipment we provide, unless it is work-related as authorized by the administrator, or other member of management; or consistent with the Acceptable Use of Electronic Communications Policy.
8. Do not use any practice email addresses to register on social networks, blogs or other online tools utilized for personal use.

Employees are encouraged to report violations of this policy. The practice prohibits retaliation against any employee for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation. Any employee who retaliates against another employee for reporting a possible deviation from this policy or for cooperating in an investigation will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including immediate discharge.

Employees should not speak to the media on the practice's behalf without contacting the Chief of Operations Officer. All media inquiries should be directed to.

Substance Abuse

The practice has vital interests in ensuring a safe, healthy and efficient working environment for our employees, their co-workers and the patients we serve. The unlawful or improper presence or use of controlled substances or alcohol in the workplace presents a danger to everyone. For these reasons, we have established as a condition of employment and continued employment with the practice the following substance abuse policy.

The practice has implemented a drug testing program in compliance with local, state and federal laws. Employees are prohibited from reporting to work or working while using illegal or unauthorized substances. Employees are prohibited from reporting to work or working when the employee uses any controlled substance, except when the use is pursuant to a doctor's orders and the doctor advised the employee that the substance does not adversely affect the employee's ability to safely perform his or her job duties.

In addition, employees are prohibited from engaging in the unlawful or unauthorized manufacture, distribution, sale or possession of illegal or unauthorized substances and alcohol in the workplace including: on practice paid time, on practice premises, in practice vehicles, or while engaged in practice activities. Our employees are also prohibited from reporting for duty or remaining on duty with any alcohol in their systems. Employees are further prohibited from consuming alcohol during working hours, including meal periods.

Your employment or continued employment with the practice is conditioned upon your full compliance with the foregoing substance abuse policy. Any violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including discharge. Furthermore, any employee who violates this policy who is subject to discharge, may be permitted in lieu of discharge, at the practice's sole discretion, to participate in and successfully complete an appropriate treatment, counseling or rehabilitation program as recommended by a substance abuse professional as a condition of continued employment and in accordance with applicable federal, state, and local laws.

Consistent with its fair employment policy, the practice maintains a policy of non-discrimination and reasonable accommodation with respect to recovering addicts and alcoholics, and those having a medical history reflecting treatment for substance abuse conditions. We encourage employees to seek assistance before their substance or alcohol use renders them unable to perform their essential job functions or jeopardizes the health and safety of themselves or others. The practice will attempt to assist its employees through referrals to rehabilitation, appropriate leaves of absence and other measures consistent with the practice's policies and applicable federal, state or local laws.

The practice further reserves the right to take any and all appropriate and lawful actions necessary to enforce this substance abuse policy including, but not limited to, the inspection of practice issued lockers, desks or other suspected areas of concealment, as well as an employee's personal property when the practice has reasonable suspicion to believe that the employee has violated this substance abuse policy.

This policy represents management guidelines. For more information, please speak to Human Resources.
